JUDGE FINDS FAULT WITH GAMBLING PROOFS

Prosecutor and Judge Engage in a
Sharp Tilt Over the Case of Frye.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, Dec. 1.—Lively three-cornered tilt between the attorneys for the prosecution, for the defense and the judge himself characterized the closing day of the trial of George Frye, charged with keeping a gaming house in connection with his saloon. The testimony for both sides was concluded and the defense moved for a dismissal. Judge J. D. Murphy retorted that he was getting tired of trying cases where the prosecution failed to cite any legal proof.

The general opinion is that Frye will be discharged, as it has been shown in the trial that he had nothing to do with the game being conducted in his place, and was not even the lessee of the room on which the raid was made by the police.

The city council at first voted to take away Frye's saloon license, but after council was ordered to show cause before the district court, the members rescinded their action and promised Frye a hearing for next Friday night.

LOVETT TO VISIT OGDEN

President of Harriman Railroads to Inspect Property at Junction City.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, Dec. 1.—R. S. Lovett, the new head of the Southern and Union Pacific systems, as well as the successor of E. H. Harriman at the head of the great railway systems will be in Ogden Friday morning, and his advent into the Junction city is causing a great stir in railroad circles. While he will remain here only an hour, he will make a cursory inspection of the company's properties, and it is believed that his visit will be of much moment.

W. H. Bancroft, vice president of the Oregon Short Line and E. C. Manson, superintendent of the Southern Pacific, are expected to meet Mr. Lovett at Ogden, today to meet Mr. Lovett and party. They will return with the party Friday morning.

It is expected that tomorrow the successor of Fred N. Hess, who has gone to Omaha to take charge of the dining car service, will be chosen.

MAY CONSTRUCT TUNNEL FOR RAILWAY TRAVELER

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, Dec. 1.—To provide further safety to passengers at the union depot, the directors are planning a system of iron fences and guarded gateways, together with subway passages from the tracks to the waiting rooms, after the manner of eastern metropolitan stations.

Work on the five new sidetracks is being pushed to completion, after which the new improvement will be taken up. The officials are at present considering the advisability of erecting elevated walks to be used by passengers to and from the trains, or to construct tunnels for similar use. A speedy decision will be made, and it was announced this afternoon that the suggested improvements would be realities before spring.

YOUTH ARRESTED AGAIN.

Burglary Charge Follows Dismissal of Forgery Accusation.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, Dec. 1.—Albert Blaylock of North Ogden, a young man of highly respectable family, was locked up last night, charged with the robbery of the Marshall general merchandise store at North Ogden, Monday night. It is alleged that razors, revolvers and a large quantity of watches were found in the room by deputy sheriffs. Young Blaylock has been in trouble before, but owing to the high position of his parents, has so far evaded trial. Several months ago he was arrested for forgery, but allowed to go.

NO STRIKE EXPECTED.

Switchmen on Utah Lines Show No Dissatisfaction.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, Dec. 1.—Local railroad men still assert that the great majority of switchmen on the Northern Pacific and Hill roads out of St. Paul to the Pacific coast have received no notice from the Western Union of any strike. Only "dead" freight under the effect here. Nevertheless, Oregon Short Line officials have received notice from the northern roads with which the Western Union connects, to the effect that no perishable freight will be accepted pending the outcome of the strike.

FORESTER GOES EAST.

Clyde Leavitt Departs for National Convention in Capital.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, Dec. 1.—District Forester Clyde Leavitt will leave for Washington tomorrow morning to attend the national convention of foresters. Mr. Leavitt will advocate several special measures for the general improvement of the forest reserve system in Utah and Idaho. Among these will be the inclusion of the Monte Cristo country, the region drained by the Cache Poudre of Ogden river, in the Cache forest reserve, an addition favorably discussed by the Western Union of any strike.

Only "dead" freight under the effect here. Nevertheless, Oregon Short Line officials have received notice from the northern roads with which the Western Union connects, to the effect that no perishable freight will be accepted pending the outcome of the strike.

FOUL POCATELLO MURDER

Lucy Miller, a Woman of the Town,
Beaten to Death—Suspect Under Arrest.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Pocatello, Ida., Dec. 1.—Lucy Miller, a woman of the underworld, was brutally murdered at a late hour last night in her apartment in the restricted district. Her body was found shortly after midnight lying in a pool of blood on her bed. Deep gashes in her forehead and bruises all over her face and body revealed the cause of death. Within an hour Tim Sullivan, aged 35 a grader, was under arrest. In his pockets were found two rings from the murdered woman's fingers and a coat he had stolen from her apartment. He wore only one sock, his mate being found by the bedside of the dead woman. A coroner's jury this afternoon held him accountable for the crime and he will be tried at this term of court. The murdered woman had a husband, Jack Miller, at Missoula, Mont., and a young son at her sister's home in Salt Lake.

Instruction at Institute.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Mt. Pleasant, Dec. 1.—The second institute of the Sanpete county teachers will be held in Mantle next Friday and Saturday. Professor Driggs of the University of Utah will lecture. Professor Driggs will discuss literature and reading and the second day will take up geography and kindred subjects. Sessions will be held at 2 p. m. Friday and 9 a. m. Saturday, both meetings to be held in the High school building. Friday evening the Mantle schools will present a dramatization of "The Early Settlement of Mantle." Music will be furnished by the Mantle schools. Superintendent A. U. Miner has been visiting a number of schools of the county recently.

GUNNISON TO VOTE ON WATERWORKS SYSTEM

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Gunnison, Dec. 1.—The question of issuing bonds for a modern waterworks system will be submitted to the voters of Gunnison. A special election has been called for this purpose. The cost of the proposed waterworks is $250,000, to be paid by bonds running twenty years, but which can be paid at any time within ten years of date of issue.

PRACTICING OPTOMETRY
WITHOUT STATE LICENSE

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Provo, Dec. 1.—Deputy Sheriff Alma C. Hake has returned from Cotton, where he arrested J. S. Macdonald Shepherd, who is alleged to have been practicing optometry without a state license. Shepherd claims that he practiced here before the law requiring license was passed and that he is entitled to practice. The complaint has been sworn to by Dr. H. S. Frye.

KOOSHAREM TO HAVE
WATERWORKS SYSTEM

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Richfield, Dec. 1.—Kooshareh, the town of the greatest elevation in this county, situated in Grass Lake valley, is preparing to install a system of waterworks. A public meeting was held on Monday night at which a committee was appointed to make the preliminary investigations. There are several springs lying within easy reach and one or more of these will be the source of supply.

FOR FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Monroe Preparing for an Interesting
Meeting of Agriculturists.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Monroe, Dec. 1.—Monroe is making preparations for a farmers' institute to be held soon. A corps of teachers from the A. C. U. has been secured, and the school will be charged and enough attendants have been assured to guarantee its success. On the last day of the session a live stock show will be held, and competent judges will be present to award prizes for the best animals in each division. O. P. Washburn is promoting the affair.

GIVE AWAY SMALL GODS

CHANCE TO GET BILLIKEN BY VISITING EXPOSITION TONIGHT.

"What if it did rain? You missed it, sure."

This is apt to be the convincing and clinching argument today between the visitor to the food and industrial show last night and the "stay-at-home." Even though the average crowd was not in attendance the exposition went through with all its features, and the fact that at least one of them was new, gave the visitors the chance to find the question of the weather to the one who was not there.

The laughable feature of the evening was the pie-eating contest. Four young men, all lovers of pie, appeared in the kitchen and began heaving their backs and went after the pies placed before them. Elmer Strong came out of the tussle winner and grinned at his competitors through his blackberry-stained face with glee as he accepted the prize as the best and fastest pie-eater.

The remaining days of the exposition, which closes Saturday night, are to be filled with interesting programs. This afternoon is "Young Ladies' day," and the most popular maiden is to receive a handsome gift. One of the big events of the entire fair will be the "Society and Tag" night. Every woman entering the exposition in the evening will be given a numbered tag. In all of the booths there will be tags, also numbered, and as many as from two to a dozen in a booth, with the numbers turned toward the wall and hidden. At 9 o'clock the booths will show their embers and women wearing a corresponding number will receive a gift.

The one big event of the entire exposition, however, will be "Baby day," on Friday afternoon. The success of the previous baby show was such that Monday's show was bound to give another, and on a more elaborate scale. This time there are to be twenty prizes given, the first ten to be silver cups, and the last five to be silver dolls. The cups are now on exhibition at the Utah Gas company's office and the Billiken in the windows of the Schramm drug store. That is the management's gift, but thirteen exhibitors have promised to give prizes that they will give away a number of Billikens.

MORE CUSTOM HOUSE
EMPLOYEES BOUNCED

Washington, Dec. 1.—Another shake-up in the New York custom house was announced at the treasury department today.

Inspector Timothy D. Lane has been suspended on charges, and the department has approved the discharge of ten assistant weighers. John G. Shand has been appointed assistant superintendent of the road will accept shipments as soon as the commission gives the word.

WESTERN PACIFIC IS READY FOR TRAFFIC

Denver, Colo., Dec. 1.—"The Western Pacific is ready for operation, and we are awaiting word from Washington to begin the acceptance of interstate shipments," said E. B. Boyd, assistant to the president of the Gould line today, upon his arrival from San Francisco. Mr. Boyd said freight and passenger tariffs have been filed with the interstate commerce commission, and the road will accept shipments as soon as the commission gives the word.

REORGANIZATION OF NEWHOUSE PROPERTY

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

New York, Dec. 1.—The South Utah Mines and Smelters, which the Newhouse Mines and Smelters under the reorganization, has taken over the properties of the old company, and the exchange of stock is now being made by the Hungarian-American National bank.

Alexander J. Moffatt, who was superintendent of the Newhouse Mines and Smelters from 1907 until about a year ago, and who is thoroughly familiar with every detail of the property and management, has been engaged as general superintendent.

WOODMEN GATHER TO GREET CONSUL

I. I. Boak of Denver Royally Entertained by Local Lodges.

PROSPERITY OF ORGANIZATION IS OUTLINED BY OFFICER.

Nearly 1,000 Woodmen of the World crowded Armory hall last night to participate in the initiation of 140 new members and to hear what I. I. Boak, consul of the Pacific jurisdiction, had to report. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic ever held by the Woodmen of the World, and a fair representation of the 2,000 members in Salt Lake was present, as well as members from other parts of Utah.

Angus McKellar, Jr., head watchman on Consul Boak's staff, presided at the meeting. The big class of candidates was initiated after the ritual of the order and the impressive ceremonial was followed by exhibition drills. At the close of the lodge work an informal program of music and song was given, with a boxing bout and a gun drill thrown in for good measure, while waters served coffee, sandwiches and other refreshments.

Of the 140 new members initiated last night, 75 were from Ogden, Murray and Garfield, the remainder being from the three Salt Lake camps. It was announced at the meeting that a special Woodman train would be run over the Denver & Rio Grande to Ogden, leaving Salt Lake at 11 o'clock. A special meeting similar to that held last night will take place at Ogden, where Mr. Boak will be the principal speaker. Friday night he will speak at Logan.

The main feature of the evening was the address of Mr. Boak on Woodcraft. Rounds of applause followed his announcement that the Pacific jurisdiction had amassed three millions of dollars in the reserve and surplus funds, and that every cent of it was invested in municipal bonds in cities of not less than 10,000 and of an assessed valuation of not less than a million.

Strength in Numbers.

Mr. Boak reported that for every five persons in the nine states of the Pacific jurisdiction, there were one thousand of the Woodmen of the World. In fact, the record, he said, is a little better than that. There are 210 members. He stated that the Woodmen of the World is the richest fraternal benefit society in the world.

Though the organization is not more than nineteen years old, he said, three millions had been paid to widows and orphans in the states of the Pacific jurisdiction. Last year, when the heads of the order expected to lose 10,000 members because of an increase in the assessment, there were only 1,800 members who dropped out, but that with the return of better times the new members had been increased so as to offset the losses.

The meeting lasted until midnight, and many hall was the scene of a big jollification which, it is expected, will be repeated at Ogden tonight. Members of the order from all over the state will participate in the festivities.

Any real estate hereabouts is salable—it will pay to persevere in advertising it.

AGED SPINSTER HELD FOR MURDER OF NIECE

Many Suspicious Features in Connection With Death of Mrs. O'cey W. N. Snead.

New York, Dec. 1.—Virginia Wardlaw, a gray-haired spinster, was arraigned at East Orange, N. J., today charged with the murder of her young niece, Mrs. O'cey W. N. Snead, whose body was found in a bathtub in a deserted house in East Orange Monday.

Death, according to the coroner, was due to drowning in less than a foot of water. In view of many features of the case—the young woman's detention in deserted houses while having a $50,000 insurance policy on her life; the fact that she owned property in Brooklyn worth $16,000, and her apparent helplessness for months—Miss Wardlaw was held without bail. Two other women, said to have been associated with the victim, are under surveillance.

The police theory is that Mrs. Snead had been in a helpless condition for months, unable to direct her own affairs, and was at the mercy of whoever acted as her guardian.
